Hello! Sure, I can talk about the Apple company using simple English.

Apple is a very big business. It makes computers, phones, and other technology products. Apple was started many years ago by two men named Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak. They made the first Apple computer in their home.

Apple's most popular products today are the iPhone smartphone and the iPad tablet computer. Many people all around the world use these Apple devices. Apple also makes laptop computers called MacBooks and desktop computers called iMacs.

The Apple business is headquartered in California in the United States. It has many stores worldwide where people can go and buy Apple products. Apple is one of the biggest and most valuable technology companies in the world.

Does this help explain what the Apple company is? Let me know if you need me to clarify or rephrase anything using simpler words.
